

Your developers, your way.

Need a change made to a PeopleSoft page, but your in-house developer is on vacation?

Want a new interface built, but your in-house developer is busy on a critical project?

Would you like someone to work with your in-house development team to get a project out the door on time?

The Onshore Technical Development Group at Sierra-Cedar is designed with your PeopleSoft Development needs in mind. We consist of senior developers who follow a proven methodology that has delivered quality results for years and are available for the biggest or smallest project using a unique and flexible engagement model.
