Our clients work with Sierra-Cedar because they seek the size, capacity, reputation, stability, and sophistication which is commonly found in the largest firms, along with the culture, depth of talent, agility, business practices, and pricing that is commonly found in Oracle-focused boutiques. We blend the positive characteristics of the largest firms and the Oracle-focused boutiques. This puts us into a “Category of One.”

They have always been able to furnish the right resource at the right time for us, even when our needs require a “needle in a haystack” or urgent response.

Our contracts have been established and managed with the highest level of integrity, and the cost for services is consistently less than what we have paid other firms for less effective resources.
