Sierra-Cedar Achieves APN Certification Distinction from Amazon Web Services

January 24, 2018 – Alpharetta, GA – Sierra-Cedar, one of the largest independent North American IT services companies and a member of the Amazon Web Services (AWS) Partner Network (APN), has received recognition for achieving 50+ AWS Certifications within its organization. AWS Certification Distinctions allow APN Partners to show how many active AWS Certifications their company has collectively achieved and highlights the value that AWS Certifications bring to their customers.

Sierra-Cedar's collaboration with AWS builds on an existing relationship in delivering cloud services to customers. As part of the APN, Sierra-Cedar provides customers with cloud consulting and managed services support so that its customers can take full advantage of AWS tools and services. "This exciting APN Certification Distinction demonstrates Sierra-Cedar's capabilities and commitment to AWS, and our expertise in delivering industry-leading cloud solutions to our clients," said Tim Gehrig, EVP, Shared Services. "We look forward to helping our customers realize their full potential by continuing to focus on our areas of technology expertise in response to today's business needs. We are thrilled to be able to offer a wide breadth of technology services to various industries, and this APN Certification Distinction is a testament to our experienced resources whose hard work has led to our continued client success."

Sierra-Cedar and AWS are working together to deliver highly scalable and highly redundant on-demand infrastructure to meet their clients' ever-changing business objectives. Sierra-Cedar has developed innovative services to help its clients leverage the AWS Cloud for design and service improvements of custom and packaged applications.
